

Indian firms to hire aggressively in FY' 12

» Reflecting the bullish employment market, Indian companies plan to recruit new employees at a good pace during the remaining part of the current fiscal, with the IT industry expected to offer the strongest hiring prospects, says a survey.

According to a study by MyHiringClub.com, 52 per cent of employers surveyed plan to hire new employees from July through March, 2012, up from 39 per cent in 2010.

In the July-September quarter, 32 per cent of employers plan to increase their headcount, up from 26 per cent in the year-ago period, the survey noted. In addition, 42 per cent of respondents plan to add more employees in the third quarter, up from 18 per cent from Q2, 2010-11, the study said.
